T. H. CITY LINES MODERN SYSTEM

Transportation Company Is Building Large Garage to House Coaches.

Terre Hauteans are fortunate in their city transportation, the fleet of busses operated locally by the Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., being among the most modern and up-to-date of any municipal transportation system in the country. The numerous routes of the company's coaches, traversing the city north, east, south and west, carry the vast flow of Terre Haute passenger traffic quickly and efficiently as a result of the many years of experience of the operating heads and the skill and personal efficiency of the drivers.

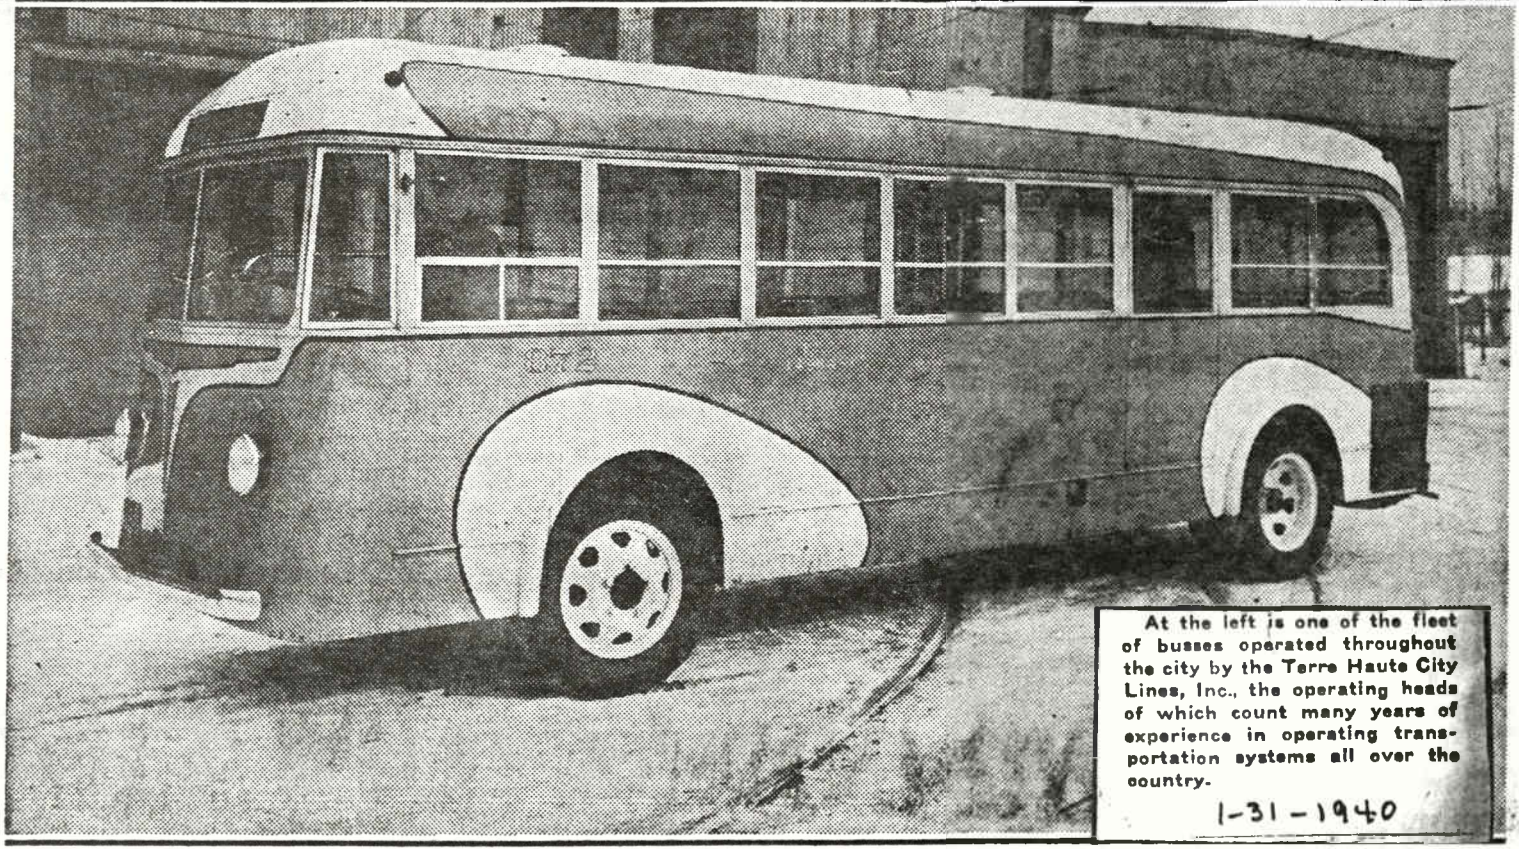
Operating heads of Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., have been engaged in the transportation business for many years, operating in many cities of the United States. They are, consequently, capable of giving Terre Haute one of the finest city bus lines of the country and, with that thought in mind, they have placed their fleet of busses on the streets. The fleet is new and up-to-date and in the best mechanical condition. Heads of the company declare that the Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., will always maintain the fleet in that condition and that busses will never be allowed to become run-down. Rolling equipment will be replaced from time to time as operating efficiency requires, it was stated.

Service is Important.

Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., began operation of the transportation system in the city on June 4, 1939, and has already made a favorable impression on the many passengers using the service so vital to the community's business and industrial life. In charge of the lines is Dale Dubie, superintendent of transportation, who has to his credit many years of experience in municipal transportation.

Upon assuming charge of the local transportation system the Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., maintained in employment all employes of the former system required in the operation of the new. The lines now employ 106 persons and of this number all were employed by the former system with the exception of two, T. C. Bachmann, in charge of the office of the company, and O. B. Reaney, maintenance superintendent.

The company is now operating a total of forty-six busses over its city routes, the number in actual operation at any time varying in accordance with peak load periods and the weather conditions. Anticipating the growth of the lines, the company is building a huge garage to care for present equipment and other coaches which will be added from time to time as required.



At the left is one of the fleet of busses operated throughout the city by the Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., the operating heads of which count many years of experience in operating transportation systems all over the country.

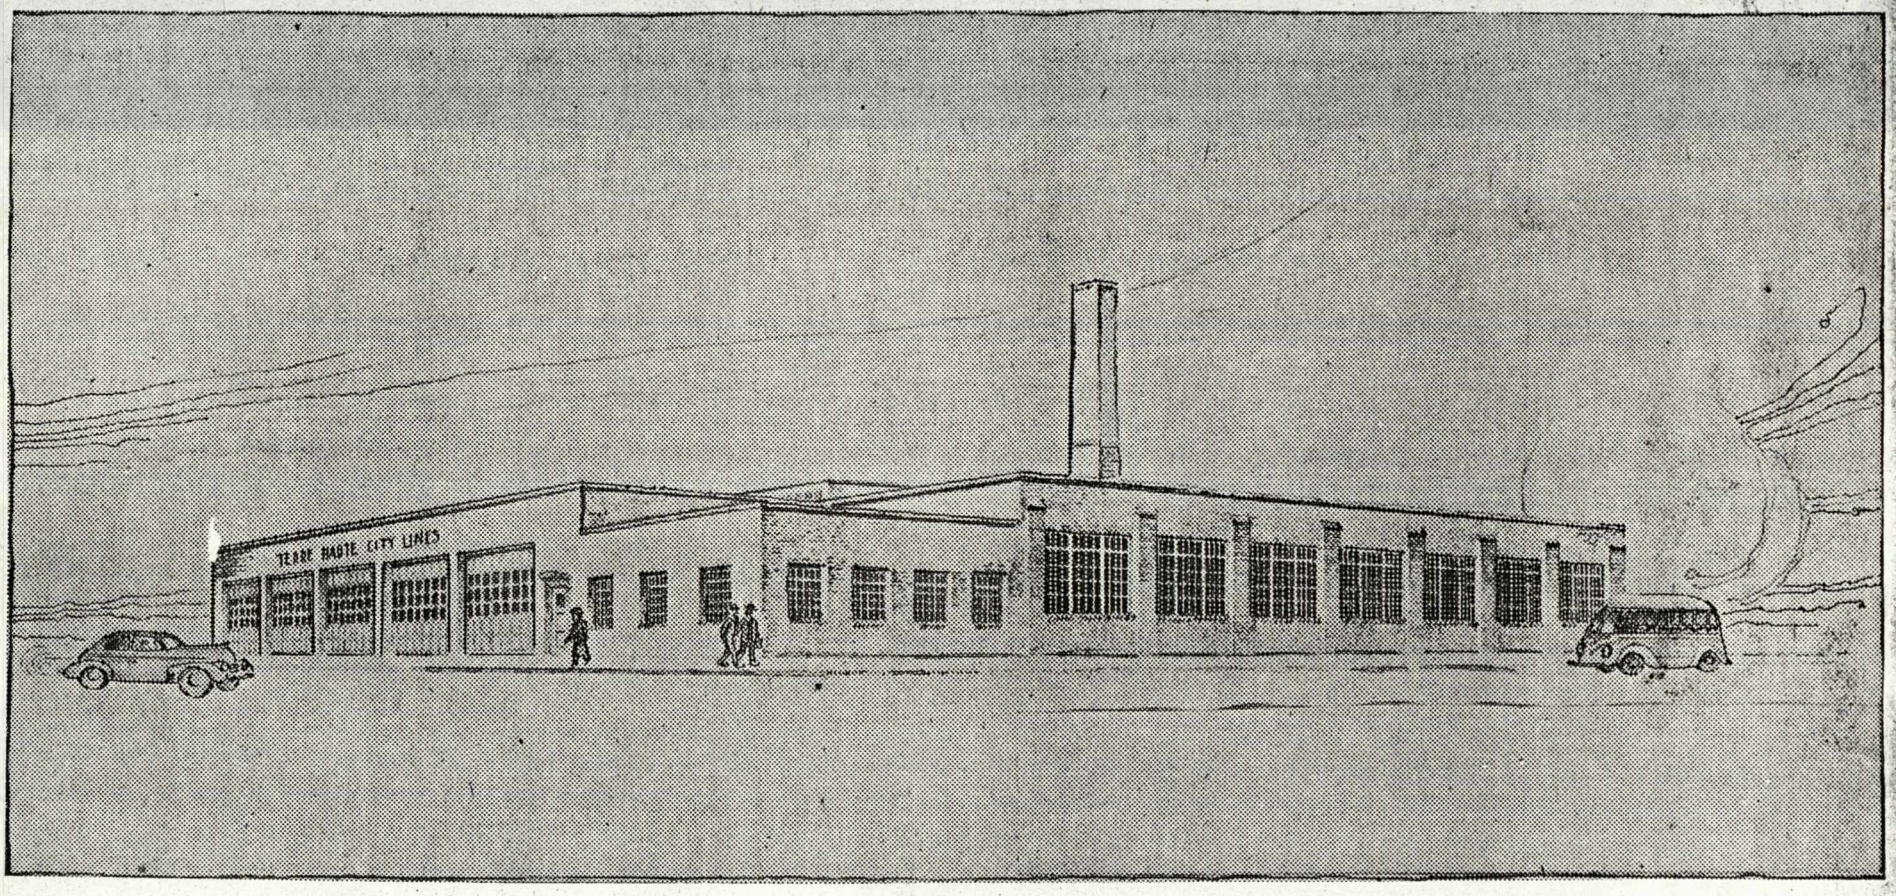
TERRE HAUTE CITY LINES, INC., TRANSPORTS LOCAL CITIZENS



Shown above is a reproduction of the architects' drawings of the new bus garage of the Terre Haute City Lines, Inc., now under process of construction. The new building's location is the southeast corner of First and Ohio streets, and the structure is 145 by 165 feet in size. The new building also will house the general offices of the transportation system, with complete facilities for handling all phases of the company's work. In addition, there will be a room for mechanics and bus operators, with locker and shower rooms for both. The building will hold all equipment of the lines, with nothing having to stand out over night, and all coaches will be washed and cleaned daily. Architects for the structure are Miller and Yeager. Work on the building was started Nov. 13, and it will represent an important addition to the city's industrial structures.
